"Look Ahead to Peace," Outland Urges Gathering

"I believe that the issues of the next few years will be of such magnitude that we must not approach them on a partisan basis but on behalf of the American people as a whole," George E. Outland told a hundred and fifty Carmel people gathered at La Ribera Tuesday afternoon.

Outland is a candidate for first United States Representative from Carmel's new congressional district, the Eleventh. He is running on both the Democratic and Republican tickets and has been endosed by all four of the Democratic county committees, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, the Monterey county delegation having been first to approach him.

Pat on the head for the Democrats

About a hundred and fifty Carmel people turned out Wednesday to look over George E. Outland, candidate for congress for the new Eleventh district. The meeting, held at La Ribera Hotel was arranged by the Democratic Women's club.

The Pine Cone-Cymbal is not Democratic in policy. It is not Republican. Our choice of candidate will be made according to qualifications and regardless of party.

Nevertheless, we want to thank the Democratic Women for bringing Outland here and giving the voters an opportunity to see him and hear him speak. We hope the Republicans will be equally energetic in arranging an opportunity for Carmel people to meet A. J. Dingeman, Outland's opponent.

As a matter of fact, the Pine Cone-Cymbal would like nothing better than to see a debate between the two candidates taking place before a packed house in Sunset auditorium.

In the next few years our government will have serious internal difficulties to meet, a war to bring to successful conclusion, a peace to make that will involve economic and sociological problems of staggering ramifications.

The men the voters send to congress will have to be men of unusual ability if they are to be equal to the tasks they will have to perform.

To make the best choice among candidates, the voters must know their men, and the simplest, the most direct way to accomplish this purpose is for them to hear and see the candidates in person.

The Democratic Women have done their part in bringing one of the candidates here to speak.

For those voters who were unable to attend the meeting, the

Joy Gives Out Correct Dope on Precinct Shuffle

C. F. Joy, county clerk, made a special call to The Pine Cone-Cymbal yesterday to correct the errors appearing in other Peninsula newspapers concerning registration for voting in the August 25 primaries.

Carmel citizens will not have to re-register simply because their precincts were rearranged last fall. Citizens who have been shifted from one precinct to another in the reshuffle have had the precinct number duly changed on their registration cards in the county clerk's office.

All citizens, however, who did not vote in the November 1940 elections are automatically off the list and must re-register if they want to vote this year. And everyone who has moved since he last registered must re-register, even though he only moved across town.

To be eligible to register, a citizen must have lived in his present precinct 40 days, must have been a resident of the county 90 days, and be able to prove residence within the state for one year.

Registration for a vote in the August 25 primaries closes on July 16.

Joy urges any Carmelite who is

Dog Catcher to Patrol Carmel After July 25

Outbreak of rabies on the Peninsula, and repeated complaints from merchants about the stray doys invading their places of business makes it necessary for Carmel to hire a dog catcher and enforce the licensing ordinance, Fred Godwin said yesterday.

People with unlicensed dogs or with dogs whose licenses have expired will have until July 25 to get their pets tagged at $2.00 for males, $4.00 for females. After that date penality double the amount of the original fee will be assessed.

After that date, also, Floyd Glover of the street department, who has been appointed dog catcher, will begin rounding up all unlicensed dogs and turning them in to the pound at Marina where they will be held for a period of 72 hours in which time their owners may claim them.

Residents of Hatton Fields and similar districts outside the city limits whose dogs do not come within jurisdiction of the city licensing ordinance, should get county dog licenses, Godwin said. The county fee is only fifty cents, and dogs so licensed will not be picked up by Glover when they wander into town.

Present licenses expired March 1 but there will be no penalty assessed for renewal if application is made before June 25.

TELLS HOW

All of us can help prevent drownings on Carmel beach. Malcolm Whitman, Jr. tells how on Feature Page, 5.

Safety Equipment Is Dangerous To Amateur Handlers

Due to the fact that a good many people are not aware that swimming conditions off Carmel beach, and all possible means of rescue, and safety devices have been thoroughly studied, The Pine Cone-Cymbal asked Commissioner of Health and Safety, Fred Godwin, for a statement concerning the investigation he made two years ago at the request of the city.

"I wrote to every seaside city in California asking them about their rescue devices, their safety measures, and how successful these had been when put to actual use," Godwin said.

"I personally visited a number of the coastal towns, inquiring of members of the city governments

READY FOR PAPER AGAIN

Having successfully disposed of the CD salvage paper stored in his warehouse, Mayor Keith Evans said yesterday that he is prepared to handle more. Citizens are asked to tie old newspapers and other scrap paper in bundles and bring it to Evans' warehouse. There is a buyer for the paper who will take two tons. The money will go as usual to the CD.

Mayor Sees Bonds For New Firetruck

With Deputy State Fire Marshalls Tom Fisher and Bill Hicks of San Francisco, L. Van Eaton, State Firemen's Association director, and Mayor Evans, Councilmen McCreery, Godwin, and Rowntree, and Fire Marshall Robert G. Leidig, as honor guests forty attended Wednesday evening's banquet celebrating the twenty-eighth anniversary of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department.

Mayor Evans told the gathering he expected to see an election for bonds with which to buy a new fire truck, while Toastmaster Paul Mercurio kept up a lively repartee as toastmaster, as he introduced the notables. Gene Ricketts, chairman, Harry Hilbert, Alex Gibson and Dave Askew were responsible for putting the affair over.

THE DOGS DO BARK

The air is buzzing with excitement as last minute preparations are being made for the outstanding canine social event of the season, the Del Monte Kennel Club show which is being held Sunday, June 28, on the green lawns of Hotel Del Monte. The handsomest blades and most beautiful belles of Carmel's doggiom are being bathed and brushed and carefully groomed for the Kennel Club's 19th annual Bark Festival, the proceeds of which will go to the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross for their new building.

Some of the social registerites who will turn out for the gala event in their best collars and leashes, satin coats, trimmed whiskers, and stunning coiffures are: LUX Hopkins, ALI BABA Kinnoull, BOURBON Kappas, NAPOLEON Kaiman, WALLACE Bratin, BUNTY McCauley, BRANDY Burson, and MICKEY Rayne. MISTY Buers, whose mantel is already covered with trophies will be there to pick up a few more blue ribbons, silver cups and etc., as well pulchritudinous Hanke children.

A number of well-known socialites who have starred at past shows will be unable to attend this year, however, because they are too busy with war work.

A special feature of the show will be the raffling off of an adorable Dalmatian puppy presented by Mr. and Mrs. John Herndon. There will be a great deal of "imported glamor" in the out-of-town entries, but the local boys and girls are quite able to meet any kind of competition and still carry off more than their share of the spoils.

Pine Inn is echoing with the patter of little feet and the music of baby laughter these days as MUGGINS Pinckard is proudly showing off her four little daughters. One of the little darlings is golden blonde, one is brunette and platinum, and other two are twins and look just like MUGGINS.

The little mother is so happy with her new home at the hotel that she is planning to name the babies "PINE INN", "PINE NUT", "PINE TOP", and "PINE CONE". Her master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. Eyre Pinckard, are just as excited about the children as MUGGINS, and the three of them beam with justifiable pride and pleasure every time the babies are mentioned.

TOUGHIE Jones hates soap! Even though he has his very own little bath tub, with his name on it, he strenuously objects to having a bath in it because it involves the use of soap.

The other day his young master decided to give him a bath. At the mention of the word, TOUGHIE leaped out of a window and disappeared. He reappeared several hours later, dripping wet. He had gone down to the beach and taken his own bath—without soap.

Canine beach frolickers and frolickeresses are finding boundless joy in the pelicans and seagulls at the beach lately. The happy dogs race madly up the beach after another equally elusive flock of birds. The untiring energy exhibited by some of these youngsters is wonderful to behold. They dash back and forth for hours at a time, barking and yelling at the top of their lungs. They are having a perfectly grand time, even if they never catch so much as a tail-feather.

Ah youth!

Russian Film Playhouse Fare

The current film at the Carmel Playhouse is the remarkable documentary, "One Day in Soviet Russia." Filmed by ninety-seven newsreel cameramen stationed by prearrangement in various regions of the huge country, it offers a composite of the daily life of embattled Russia. A running commentary by Quentin Reynolds, American ace foreign correspondent, analyzes, and clarifies the enormous mass of information supplied by the film. The picture has been utilized as a morale-builder throughout England where it has been shown everywhere. In this country it has been seen up to now only in the great metropolitan cities. Late news and selected short subjects round out the bill, which includes a beautiful two-real film of the Monte Carlo Ballet.

On Monday, for one night only, the Playhouse will revive the delightful "The Mad Miss Manton," with Henry Fonda and Barbara Stanwyck. This is in line with the summer policy of Monday night revivals of famous films, inaugurated this week by a sold-out house for "Ruggles of Red Gap."

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week the bill will be, "The Devil and Miss Jones," with Jean Arthur, Robert Cummings and Charles Coburn, an excellent film from last season which is being shown for the second time all over the country.

NON-FICTION — "Memoirs" of Sherwood Anderson; "Mystery Ship" by George S. Bryan, the brig Mary Celeste; "The War at Sea" by Gilbert Cant; "The Road We Are Travelling" by Stuart Chase; "The French in the West Indies" by W. Adolph Roberts; "America's Strategy" by Nicholas J. Spykman; "Invitation to dance" by Walter Terry.

FICTION — "Daughter of Time" by Nella G. Mitzi Mayfair Cast in Lead at Del Monte Opener

Del Monte Theatre opens its season Friday ,July 3rd with the Broadway success "OUT OF THE FRYING PAN", by Francess Swann, and will play through July 12th.

"OUT OF THE FRYING PAN", a fast moving comedy, is the story of a group of youngsters trying to "break into theatre", and of their many trials and thrills encountered in the attempt. The setting is a cheap boarding house in New York.

Taking the lead will be Mitzi MAYFAIR, who four years ago at the ripe old age of 18 retired from the New York stage after seven years as an outstanding child star. May it be said that Mitzi retired to marry one of the richest men in America. Although primarily a dancer, Mitzi had many successful roles in musical comedy and took the lead in "The Show is on" during its long run at the Music Box Theatre in New York.

The male lead will be played by Joe Brown Jr., who comes from Hollywood specially for the Del Monte Theatre opening production. His latest picture "Ten Gentlemen from West Point" has just been released and is now playing at the Roxy Theatre in New York.

Rita Quigley who arrives in town today to start rehearsals and will be remembered best for her work in "Susan and God".

Safety Equipment

concerning their beach problems and how they had solved them.

"On my trip to San Francisco I had lengthy conversations with the Coast Guard personnel, and every opportunity to investigate their life-saving equipment.

"In connection with the San Francisco beach, I think it is significant that the entire beach is posted, indicating that even with life guards and the best of Coast Guard equipment, beach accidents continue.

"Regarding life saving equipment, I found that even the simplest equipment, must be handled by trained people. Handled by the inexperienced and untrained, not only the victim but the rescurer is endangered.

"I am not opposed to the installing of life-saving equipment. On the contrary, I have recommended and there has been installed the equipment I believe best suited for our particular beach conditions, but equipment cannot be purchased and installed haphazardly without regard to the availability of trained personnel to handle it and the conditions under which it will be used."

Inez Lauritano Is Bach Soloist

Among the violinists whom the Eighth Annual Bach Festival, July 20-26, will bring to Carmel, is Inez Lauritano. Miss Lauritano is a New York talent, who spends her summers in Santa Barbara. In 1932 she was given the Walter W. Naumburg Foundation award, and made her debut in Town Hall that year.

Inez Lauritano is unusually gifted, and has received especial comments from the critics for her full, rich tone, commanding style and easy technical equipment. She will appear on the Saturday program.

Churches . . .

"God In National Affairs," will be the sermon theme next Sunday morning at the Church of the Wayfarer. Dr. James E. Crowther, D.D. Pastor. Mrs. Ellen Rosell, as Guest Organist, will play the following selections: "Nazareth," Gounod; "If With All Your Hearts," Mendelssohn; "Offertory In A Flat," Batiste; "Postlude," De Monti." The service is at eleven. Visitors and especially service men are cordially invited to share with us this hour of worship in a lovely sanctuary.

The Church School will meet at 9:45 for the second lecture by Dr. Crowther on "Lights and Shadows Of Africa," illustrated with lantern slides. The children and young people are to be guests of the Church for a showing of "Dumbo" at the PLAYHOUSE at the 2:30 matinee performance on Saturday, July 4th. The short feature will be, "The Declaration Of Independence." After the performance, the young folks will meet in the social hall of the church for refreshments.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH

Next Sunday, 8:00 a.m., Service of the Holy Communion, at 11:00 a.m. the Service of Morning Prayer with sermon message by the Rector, Rev. C. J. Hulsewe, "Not Afriad of Evil Tidings". Offertory solo, Harker's "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," soloist Arch Leonard. Organ number will include a prelude by Ceasar Frank, a chorale "Ascribe Unto the Lord, O Ye Mighty" by Jan Sweelinck and a prelude by Haydn with Alice Lee Keith at the Console. As a House of Prayer for All People All Saints Church welcomes all visitors to Carmel. Come and experience the spirit of our worship services and you will come again and again!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, June 28, on the subject "Cristian Science." The Golden Text will be: "Laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word that ye may grow thereby,"

(I. Peter 2: 1, 2).

Bible selections will include the following passage from Jeremiah 1: 6, 7: "Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child. But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Kay to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which read as follows: "The author has not compromised conscience to suit the general drift of thought, but has blutly and honestly given the text of Truth. . . . In the spirit of Christ's charity,—as one who 'hopeth all things, endureth all things,' and is joyful to bear consolation to the sorrowing and healing to the sick,—she commits these pages to honest seekers for Truth," (Pref. x, xii).

Business Association Meets In Swim Pool; Votes Recreation Fund

Seventy-four attended the Business Association's barbecue at La Playa ranch up the Valley last Thursday evening.

A one minute business session was called to order from the diving board by Secretary Barbara Norberg, and presided over by President Harold Nielsen. Members voted to take $50 out of the treasury for the civic recreation program, also to raise another $50 by donations.

Among those who tried out Fred Godwin's illuminated swimming pool were, Ernest Morehouse, Helen Todd, Gunnar Norberg, Adolf LaFrenz, Harrison Godwin, Mrs. D. L. Staniford, and Mrs. Arthur Watson. Among those who ate their dinner on the diving board was Gladys Johnston.

After the swimmers gave up trying to coax and even pull Corum Jackson into the pool (in the chill of the moonlight), the party dissolved.

Diners included: D. L. Stanifords, the Arthur Watsons, the Cree Wilders, the Mervin Baileys, Anna Katz, Adolph LaFrenz, Hallie Samson, Marion Todd, Marguerite Brinegar, the Carl Rohrs.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, Ernest Bixler, Mr. and Mrs. James Handley, the Walter Nielsens, Mrs. Ray Sutton, Mrs. Mabel Sampson, Mr. John Jordan, Miss Marcia Haskell, the Corum Jacksons, and the Jim Cooke and Cooke's sister, Mrs. Gunderson.

Barney Segal, Harrison Godwin, Mort Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Norbergs, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clarence Dwiggins, the Gunnar Nielsen, Mary Miller, Gladys Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones, Betty Jean Newell, Mr. and Mrs. John Niekirk, Gretchen Niekirk, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, Mrs. Lottie Point, Elizabeth Paine.

Bob Ralph came down from San Francisco several days ago to visit with Father Michael O'Connell.

Critical Outsiders
Off Base Again

A week has passed since our first drowning of the season. The outsiders, the newcomers and the people who are not in a position to understand our problems and our beach have had a field day of criticism at our expense. They should be about talked out now, and in a suitable state of exhaustion to make them amenable to reason.

I wonder how we can make them understand that Carmel bay is not a fit place for swimming and that there is nothing we can do to remedy conditions. Resourceful as we are as a community, we are hardly clever enough to alter the tidal forces of the Pacific Ocean, and as long as the currents behave as they do along our shore, one life guard, three life guards, ropes, boats, surfboards, any number of devices and gagets wouldn't make our beach a safe place for the casual swimmer. If they would, the people of Carmel would have seen to it that the beach was provided with them.

Even at considerable expense, would we not profit by being able to say, "Come swim at our beach which we have made safe by such and such measures"?

But there are no measures we can take that would justify our making such a statement, as we learned from the investigation made by our Commissioner of Safety, Fred Godwin, who visited most of the beach cities of the coast in his study of the problem. And as an exhibit of safety devices would only encourage the unwary to take their chances with currents beyond their strength, we have done the most honest, the safest, and commercially the most unprofitable thing we could do: we have put up warning signs stating that the beach is unsafe.

Lady of the House
You Are Not Through Yet

You think you have gathered up all the scrap rubber in the house. You've made your last trip to the service station with torn hot waterbottles, rubber heels, and Joe's old raincoat. You think you're through.

Actually you are surrounded on all sides by scrap rubber. Like a breath-taking view from the living-room window which you have become so accustomed to that you are no longer conscious of it until a stranger walks in and says, "colossal", the rubber stoppers on the medicine bottles that you intended to clear off the bathroom shelf two years ago, and the garters in the work basket that you sheared off long-forgotten, long-abandoned corsets, are so familiar to you that you aren't aware that they are of the same stuff that is used for rubber parts of battle ships and pontoon bridges.

Then there is that rubber door mat that you are only too conscious of because it is producing an inner conflict between your New England thrift and your sense of responsibility as a citizen of a nation at war. Why should you give up a rubber mat as good as new?

But that rubber door mat is no longer good as new, because from this day forward, you will have to explain and excuse its presence to your friends and callers who have parted with THEIR rubber door mats, and a rubber door mat you have to apologize for is a liability and not an asset.

So it's better to give it up to the war effort and replace it with one of those furry, fiber mats that look as if they might get up and bark.

Moreover, when Joe moans about giving up the rubber mat in the luggage compartment of the car, you can say complacently, "You should complain! How about me and my door mat?"

Complaint Department
Item No. 2

Several men who would have preferred playing soft ball, reading a book, going fishing or even attending to their jobs and business in the time they spent searching for, digging up and bringing home ferns to plant around the Memorial Monument in the park are not happy to see those same ferns dying for the want of water.

Others have noticed the depressed and saddened condition of the plants and commented on it. This is not the best time of the year for transplanting shade-loving ferns from a cool canyon to a sunny spot in the city park, but with sufficient water they can survive the ordeal.

The Pine Cone-Cymbal has been asked to nudge somebody so that he will nudge somebody who will nudge somebody on down through the city departments until the person is reached who is being overconscientious about the city water bill to the detriment of the park greenery.

We herewith nudge.

Please Remember...
WARTIME TRAVEL
is not "As Usual"

The pleasant days of travel "as usual" will come again. But right now the war job comes first—and the traveling public must expect some inconvenience and delay. Greyhound is cooperating fully with the Office of Defense Transportation in Washington, D. C., to provide essential service for all those who must keep rolling to keep America rolling—selectees, fighting men and war workers.

THIS NECESSITATES:

Operating only essential service.
Eliminating extra buses if not sufficiently loaded.
Reducing operating speed and eliminating fast, limited schedules.
Establishing cooperative service with other companies over certain routes to reduce bus mileage.
Conserving rubber and other vital materials by the above and other means.

HOW YOU CAN HELP:

Make your trips short—as close to home as possible.
Travel only during mid-week—Tuesday to Thursday. Week-end travel is congested by military personnel and war workers.
Carry as little baggage as possible.
Be lenient if there is any inconvenience, delay or crowding.
Think twice before taking any trip—postpone it if you can.
Buy U.S. War Bonds and Stamps.

THE WAR EFFORT COMES FIRST!

LEARN TO KNOW THE CURRENT THAT DROWNS

by

MALCOLM D. WHITMAN, JR.

Considerable comment and distrubed feeling was caused by the drowning at the beach last week and the sounding of the siren on the following day. People were genuinely upset, and some who knew that I have taken surf sports at the beach seriously during the past year suggested my describing what is the actual menace of a treacherous beach.

A swimmer can hardly get to Carmel Beach without having heard of its "undertow" and being warned against it. But I am critical of that word "undertow." An average swimmer is almost sure to associate it with the ebb flows of waves, which indeed seem to want to "tow" him "under." The bigger the wave, he finds, the stronger these ebb flows. This makes him tend to be very careful when there is a big surf, which is its own green and white warning, anyway, and careless when the waves are sudsy and small; and it is then that Carmel beach is at its most treacherous.

I personally call the water movements that do the drowning, "outflows," and for their power, they demand respect. They can move, I find, as fast as eight miles an hour, which is faster than you can row a boat or paddle a paddle board, let alone swim, and they do this on the calmest as well as the roughest days.

These "outflows," particularly the big ones, are not easy to detect when you are in the water. They can form anywhere along the beach, though the biggest can usually be found somewhere between Eleventh and Twelfth Avenues. They go to work on the swimmer as follows:

The beach has been beaten flat by a big surf a few days previously, and since then, smaller waves have trenched the beach inshore, or made a slew of deeper water over which the waves conflict and aren't very interesting. The swimmers are tempted across the slew onto a fine, firm sand bar over which the little waves are sudsy and great fun.

The tide is going out, and, of course, all that water in the slews has to drain off somewhere, which it does, principally at the point where the bar is weakest.

Meanwhile, the waves over the rest of the bar are "just perfect," for everything from jumping timorously up and down, to body-surfing, or using a kiddy surfboard. With firm sand underfoot, sun overhead, and every wave propulsive toward shore, people feel perfectly secure.

But a small side-flow may have been acting on the bathers tending to move them along the beach. Nothing to worry about—just the "tide!" The waves look even better. Whoever said Carmel beach is treacherous and had undertows?

Then, of a sudden, things don't seem quite so right. A wave comes ON one of the swimmers, when, if the rhythm had been held, it would have combed WITH him. It becomes a gay idea to go ashore and tell everyone how grand it WAS, not IS.

Hundreds heed that impulse because of a "mean" wave, without realizing that what got them out of position for that particular wave was a new factor, an "outflow" of water, which some sense in them detected as menacing and moved them to leave.

If the swimmer doesn't heed the impulse and go ashore, the odds are that he will miss the next wave too, the reason being that he is now in the outflow and the water moves him offshore. It suddenly becomes tremendously important to the swimmer who the people are who are with him, what equipment they have, how near they are and if they are looking.

The next wave is no friendly, sudsy thing. It socks the swimmer in the back of the neck like a hard-stuffed, hard swung pillow. The swimmer must now, feeling sick and short of wind, decide between wasting energy yelling or devoting every bit of strength to a silent, desperate struggle. He may, so struggling, miss drowning by teaspoonfuls of air in his lungs, or thoughts which help drive on his body—and never know, and never recognize, and never tell, save by later being a little shyer when the waves are big, and Carmel beach is much safer than on the day of his private ordeal.

These "outflows," while not obvious to swimmers, can be seen and recognized from shore. The foam inshore of the spot where the waves comb does not seem to move toward shore so freely as at other places, and there is aerated water out beyond the place where the farthest waves start to comb. The water looks a lighter green, usually, and you can see it flow out if you look carefully.

People who have talked to me while the echo of the siren was still fresh in their minds and have expressed a deep urge to do something toward making the beach safer can help by looking for and learning to recognize the "outflows." Then, when they see someone playing at the mouth of one, they can make haste to warn him.

Regarding rescue equipment, after a year of observation, I feel that the long, heavy surfboard, such as the emergency boards now hung on poles at the beach, make about the best general, practical rescue means yet contrived for the conditions, except that, remembering having been rowelled by projecting screw-eyes on a board of my own, I would personally feel more like using the emergency boards if the screw-eyes holding the hand ropes to them were countersunk into the wood.

But the best safety measure is to prevent accident. And I do feel that learning what an outflow looks like and telling people about it might well help to keep the siren from blowing on many an occasion at Carmel Beach.

POETRY

ENTREATY

Delve down bright tool within the blazing hand
Of Beauty, clip the cords, the sinews, lift
My heart from its dark well unto thy place
Upon the highest hill, and let thy bright
And singing mouth devour this beating thing
That hath no wish but to be part of thee;
Part of thy flesh, thy thunder and thy storm;
Whirling within thy darkness as a star;
Sighing in spray against thy breasts of stone—
Eat me entire—Ah, delve, probe deeper down,
Exhume me at length: be thou my life and death!

—WILLIS EBERMAN

SALVADOR DALI NOCTURNE

The purple leaves of sleep
Are stirred by winds
So dark
That violent orange fruits
Fall down in crescent
Arc
To shatter furry husks
That gleam with Indigo,—
Strange splintered seeds of dream
Placed pointed
A unicorn of pink
With eyes of polished
Coral
Is rearing spotted crest
To tear at fruits of Laurel . . .
The shadowed fog of green
With hands of Yellow silk
Has twined in ghostly death
Frail flowers white
As milk.

GIFT

If I give to the world the wealth I have,
I give what it cannot hold;
For silver dulls in the hand that grasps
And time will tarnish gold.

If I give of wealth, I give a thing
Which never was truly mine;
But a bauble to use for a little day
And at close of day resign.

If I give to the world the lilt of a tune
What I give I may also keep.
I sow of joy in the fields of life
And there of the harvest reap.

So I will give from the heart of me
A gift enduring long;
I give to the world a part of me,
I give to the world a song.

MORE WOMEN NEEDED IMMEDIATELY IN EMERGENCY WORK

The Bundles for Bluejackets division working on the emergency salvage sewing campaign to make desperately needed clothing for our American sailor's families, report that the public is generously responding to their appeal for discarded materials which are being converted into useful as well as attractive garments.

Many, many more women to assist in sewing are needed at once and Mrs. J. W. Murphy, chairman of Bundles for Bluejackets, makes an urgent request that those who can spare only a small part of their time come forward, even though they may have to put aside other work, and temporarily help in this crisis.

It may not be generally understood that this Navy relief work is an emergency call under the War Production Board's jurisdiction from Washington, and that Bundles for America, Inc., Headquarters, has appointed Bundles for Bluejackets in Carmel o operate and coordinate with it as quickly as possible.

Therefore it is the duty of our American women whole heartedly to respond as patriotic citizens.

Russell Williams Expected

"You have to go East to appreciate California," the Russell Williams wrote Mrs. T. M. Criley from New York the other day, speaking of how they have been suffering from heat.

Today, however, the Williams are due to arrive home after a visit with Ted Criley in Los Angeles, according to Mrs. Criley who has been taking care of her three grandchildren, Marian, Richard and John.

Dr. Williams went to John Hopkins a month ago to take his specialist's degree and has been visiting hospitals in Baltimore and New York.

Jim Cooke's Sister Here

Seeing Carmel for the first time this week is Mrs. Victor M. Gunderson of Detroit, sister of Jim Cooke.

She arrived just in time for the Business Association's barbecue at La Playa ranch last Thursday evening and, delighted with the woodsy setting, the illuminated swimming pool and the party in general, Mrs. Gunderson said Carmel must be a wonderful place indeed if it had barbecues like that often.

She will be with the Cookes for a week at least.

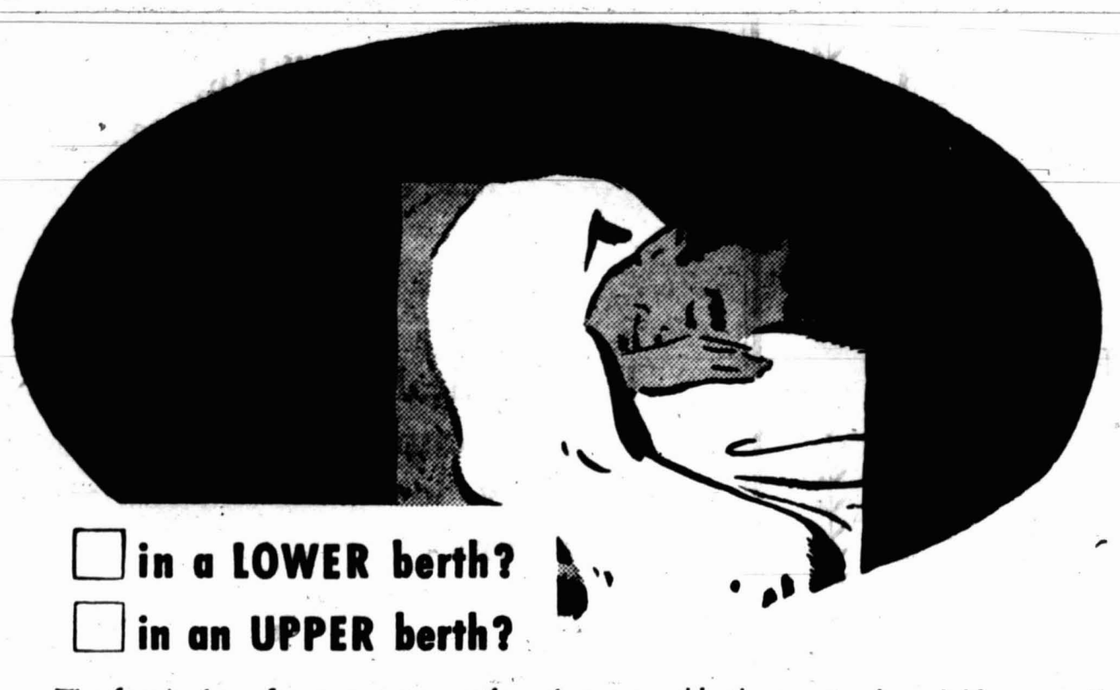
WHERE is this man sleeping?



☐ in a LOWER berth?
☐ in an UPPER berth?

The fact is that after you once nestle down in a berth you can't tell whether it's an upper or a lower. Both are the same size (over six feet long and three feet wide), have the same fresh, clean bedding, the same downy pillows, the same reading lights, the same comfort. An upper berth costs about 20% less than a lower.

With this in mind, and remembering that cars and berths are urgently needed by our armed forces, please don't be disappointed if only upper berths are available the next time you travel. Try an upper. We think you'll be agreeably surprised. Many experienced travelers have preferred them—for years.

Hester Schoeninger Cycles Home—

After penetrating 200 miles up the Redwood highway, cycling 30 to 40 miles a day, Hester Schoeninger and Undine Bliss have returned home, Miss Bliss with the mumps.

They started at Napa and went almost as far as Garberville, and plan to return later in the summer and go clear on to Gold Beach, Oregon, for some salmon fishing.

The girls brought back a record of their trip in colored movies. They met no other cyclists en route and found that the three-geared, hand-braked English biccycles they brought back from London occasioned considerable interest along the way.

Seventy a Day Play at Sunset

Seventy youngsters are enjoying sports each day at Sunset school as Carmel's recreation program goes into its third week.

Another seventy boys and girls went up the Valley to La Playa ranch Friday for swimming and picnicking, and on Wednesday evening a large group enjoyed the summer days dance in Sunset cafeteria.

This week's dance, again on Wednesday evening, will be an old clothes affair, a hobo dance.

Twenty-two have turned out for Director George Mosolf's tennis instruction Mondays and Wednesdays, while deck tennis, volley ball, touch football and baseball are proving popular on the beach commencing every afternoon at 2 p.m.

The program for June 29 through July 4 follows:

Tatters Actor to Join U C Faculty

As "Tatters, the Pet of Squatters' Gulch", goes into its twelfth and thirteenth performances tomorrow night and Sunday, the Troupers of the Gold Coast, in California's First Theatre, Monterey, are having two major changes in cast.

Douglas Hume, who has been playing Major Timberlake and M. C.ing the show, is leaving for Berkeley, where he will be an instructor in drama for summer session. Roland Scheffler, who has been acting the villain, Phil Dolan, will become the blustering Major, and Bob McMenamin will take over the role of the wicked Phil Dolan. He will also be M.C.

On Thursday evening, June 25, the Gold Coast Troupers will give a special performance of "Tatters" at the First Theatre for the County Treasurers' Association, which will be having a convention at the Del Monte Hotel.

High Tea at Tuck Box—

One of the very few requests received by the Tuck Box for a real English high tea complete with kippers, was made the other afternoon at 6 o'clock by Joan Fontaine. She is also one of Lorna Watson and Nancy Brumbridge's rare customers for beef and kidney pies.

Red Cross News

By B. H. CORY

Thanks to the patriotic wishes of the Del Monte Kennel Club the profits from the forthcoming dog show to be held June 28th at Hotel Del Mone, are to be contributed to the Red Cross for the furnishings of their new Headquarters. In return, besides having a delightful time at the show, all who patronize this event will have the pleasure of knowing that they are also aiding the great work of the Red Cross.

As soon as the new Red Cross building is ready, certificates will be presented to the following classes: Nutrition Class instructed by Miss Heninger which was graduated Monday night, June 22nd, the Nutrition Class instructed by Miss Helen Poulsen and Miss Martha Groth which was graduated recently, The Canteen Aides instructed by Miss B. B. Shulte. Certificates will also be presented to the new members of the Motor Corps.

The Red Cross Chapter of Carmel plans to hold open house as soon as they are settled in their new location. Invitations to their many friends will be extended through the press at a later date.

Anyone wishing to make a donation of furniture to the Red Cross to help in the furnishing of their new building please communicate with Mrs. Francis McComas, Chairman of Decoration, Telephone 237.

The Red Cross is calling for a cabinet maker and a carpenter to volunteer their services to aid them in becoming settled in their new building.

Mr. Morehouse, chairman under Mrs. Ross Stanton, General chairman of the Peninsula, in charge of collecting scrap rubber for the down town district, announces that the Jr. Red Cross and the Boy Scouts will assist in the collection. The business firms are asked to co-operate when the collectors call.

Headed by Mrs. Francis McComas, famous artist and decorator, a committee has been formed to work out a scheme of decoration for the new headquarters of the Carmel-by-the-Sea Chapter of the American Red Cross. Plans are new complete, and ready to be put into effect, but help is needed to carry them out,—not financial help but manual help. If you are a good amateur painter, carpenter, cabinet maker, upholsterer or curtain maker—or better still, if you are a professional in any of these lines, and would like to give a little of your time and services to the Red Cross—your assistance will be most welcome. Volunteers are asked to report at the new Red Cross Headquarters on Dolores near Eighth, tell them what you are willing and able to do, leave your telephone number or your address, and you will be called upon when needed.

Lady Has Plans Carmel Feature

Tonight and tomorrow Carmel Theatre will show Paulette Goddard's best starring vehicle to date, "The Lady Has Plans," in which she has the support of Ray Milland. The companion film, "The Adventures of Martin Eden," is Jack London's noted story of the feuds of seagoing men as only he could tell them. It is a stern but colorful tale, with the leads expertly handled by Glenn Ford, Claire Trevor, Ian MacDonald, Stuart Erwin and Evelyn Keyes. The setting is San Francisco of an earlier day.

The three-day picture starting with Sunday's continuous show will be "To the Shores of Tripoli," a Technicolor production dedicated to the United States Marines, with a setting of the harbor of San Diego. It is mainly the story, with a new twist of two, of the smart aleck recruit and the stern sergeant who puts him to rights, a situation which never fails to entertain. The leads are John Payne, Randolph Scott, Maureen O'Hara and Nancy Kelly.

The midweek picture, Wednesday Thursday, is "Kathleen," one of the more important films of the year, for it brings back to the "common people" of America their Shirley Temple as they want her to be, not the Shirley so recently smothered under a blanket of Technicolor, extras and vague whimsy. The capable adult players who support the little star are Herbert Marshall, Laraine Day and Gail Patrick. The story is a simple, forthright affair concerning perfectly understandable people surrounding a motherless girl of twelve who has been left too long in clumsy hands. The ending is as it should be, and the audience will laugh and cry as it used to at Shirley Temple films.

Florence Lockwood Show Tomorrow

Florence Lockwood will open an exhibit of portraits, oil, charcoal and pastel, at Ellen Habenicht's Sketch Box gallery tomorrow.

The show of a dozen canvases will continue through July 1.

Among the oil portraits which Mrs. Lockwood will exhibit will be those of Sculptor Finn Frolich, Mrs. William Cole Vest, wife of the commanding officer of Camp Hunter Liggett, of Iris Alberto, and probably the paintings of Mrs. Norman Reynolds and Mrs. Allen Griffin.

I will buy carefully.
I will take good care of the things I have.
I will waste nothing.

Duration-ize YOUR APPLIANCES with timely repair!

EVERYTHING we buy today must be needful. Everything we own, must, as a matter of national need be made to last as long as possible. Everything we use, we must use carefully and savingly. Very soon now, household appliances, the mechanized equipment on the Home Front, cannot be replaced; therefore the equipment we have must carry on to keep the Victory Pledge. ★ Ranges and Refrigerators must be Duration-ized with timely repair. We must cook food to preserve nutritive values. We must conserve food with proper refrigeration. Vacuum cleaners must keep rugs free of dust and destructive grit. Water heaters and washers must help soap do more efficient cleaning jobs.

"Look Ahead to Peace," Outland Urges Gathering

"So far," Outland said, "I have promised nobody anything. My hope is that I can go to Congress without obligation to any group or any man.

Must Plan Peace Now

"Of course we all agree that winning the war is the first and paramount issue. We need to mobilize all our assets, and at the same time, I believe that we must conserve and replenish our resources as an essential part of winning the war.

"But I pay my disrespects to the statement that we should win the war now and settle the peace later. I do not want to see a repetition of the sabotaging of Woodrow Wilson's plan.

"The problems which will follow this war will be of such magnitude as we have no former knowledge —new boundaries, refugees, health, the problems will stagger the imagination. Winning the peace is equally important with winning the war.

Against Sales Tax

"As we have tried to make democracy function better, we have seen the constant struggle for a higher standard of living and of security for all. I am concerned about the domestic situation, that while we fight for democracy on foreign fronts, we do not lose it at home. We must preserve our democratic gains while the war is in progress, and as soon as it ends continue to expand them and especially our educational facilities.

"The sacrifices which we must make during the war will, I hope, be as justly distributed as possible. I have great fear of the proposed ten percent national sales tax, because it falls too heavily on those least able to pay.

"I am not a rubber stamp and have never been known as such, but I feel that it is important in the emergency to strive for a high degree of unity.

"I believe President Roosevelt should be supported."

Outland, who was born and brought up on a Ventura county ranch, is a member of the social science faculty at Santa Barbara State College. He graduated from Whittier College, has a master's degree from Harvard and a doctor's degree from Yale. His specialty is international relations—on which he has written many articles and a college text book.

Preceding Outland's talk, Helen Gahagan, national Democratic committeewoman for California, gave an address, "The Importance of the November Elections."

Though the advance sale of tickets at both Hotel Del Monte, headquarters of the A. W. V. S., and Thoburn's in Carmel has been gratifying, and by concert time it is expected that the auditorium will be sold out, it was the sponsorship of a group of Peninsula residents that encouraged Menuhin to play for the benefit. Among them are:
